

GOT A FORKLIFT?

WHAT YOU DON'T KNOW ABOUT
SAFETY-TOED SHOES
CAN COST YOU!

TUESDAY, OCTOBER 29, 2019 • 11:00 AM – 12:00 PM PDT • FREE FOR MEMBERS

If you use a motorized industrial lift truck (forklift or electric pallet jack) in your facility, you may already be aware that your lift truck operators should be wearing safety toed shoes. What you might not realize is that there's more to it than that.

Join us at this members-only webinar in which Safety Consultant John Holland, President of Assured Compliance Solutions will bring you up to speed on your responsibilities in this area.

Participants will learn:

- What are the Cal/OSHA regulations regarding industrial lift trucks and safety-toed shoes?
- How do you determine if an employee's feet need hard-toed protection?
- If an employee needs to wear safety-toed shoes, does it matter which ones they wear?
- Who is responsible for paying for safety-toed shoes when they're required?
- How do you complete the Written Personal Protective Equipment Hazard Assessment that Cal/OSHA requires? What do you do with the completed Assessment?
- What are the recommended safety procedures when pedestrians share aiseways with industrial lift trucks?
- What are the penalties for non-compliance with these regulations—and is Cal/OSHA really enforcing these rules anyway?

About the Speaker

John Holland and his company Assured Compliance Solutions, Inc. have been helping California printers since 1995 attain CAL-OSHA compliance. For the last twenty-four years, ACS has been providing their California clients the same type of high quality worker safety compliance support that fortune 500 companies have long received from their own in-house professional safety compliance staff. With his long-time print industry CAL-OSHA experience, John Holland knows what violations an enforcement officer is seeking to uncover at your facility. Implement all the advice from Assured Compliance Solutions and your people will have a safer work environment, and you won't have to fear an unexpected CAL-OSHA audit of your facility.
